

A Walking Tour of Historic Downtown

A visit to Belmont almost always includes a relaxing stop in beautiful Stowe Park, site of many annual festivals and outdoor concerts. The park is also home to the famous eight-foot, zinc World War II sculpture “The Spirit of the Fighting Yank.”

Walking north of Stowe Park's sparkling fountain – which is lit in brilliant colors at night – you can discover great places to eat just across the street: Sammy's Neighborhood Pub and Old Stone Steakhouse. Old Stone is located in the former Belmont police department and jail.

Also sharing the former police space, The Jailhouse boasts a whiskey and cigar bar featuring extensive options for guests.

You'll begin to smell the coffee as you continue walking north by Caravan Coffee & Dessert Bar, where Belmont residents gather from early morning until late at night to sip salted caramel lattes and relax.

Next door, note the location of William Henry Salon & Spa, where you can be pampered all day or just get your hair cut.

Belmont embraces the trains that cross Main Street. You'll often find spectators watching the train zoom on by throughout the day. And the city's former Belmont Depot? It still retains its historic charm, now home to South Main Cycles. If you're a bicycle buff – beginner or professional – you'll want to take a quick detour to this local shop. Wednesday through Sunday from 5 p.m. until late, Station, offers beer, wine, cider, soda and great pub food after a long ride or just a long day. Also found here, Mugshots Coffee & Tea where you can enjoy a cup of deliciousness.

For boutique eats in town, discover Belmont's Specialty Foods. They have a wide variety of foods: pastas, seasonal babkas, oils, cheeses, already prepared meals, local and international foods. Stop in to see this quaint, one-of-a-kind store.

Have a sweet tooth? Be sure to visit Cotton Candy Factory where you can spin your own cotton candy! There are plenty of sweet treats for everyone.

For a delicious breakfast or lunch, Cherubs Café is the place to be. You will see angels hard at work.

Gigi's Boutique and Fine Consignment is the perfect way to add some flair to your closet. They offer consigned and new clothing for women and girls.

Happy Dog Café & Boutique is sure to convince you that Belmont is a pet-friendly town. If your timing is right, you may even be able to enjoy “Yappy Hour.”

Along the corner of Main and Catawba, discover Nellie's Southern Kitchen, a locally sourced, fresh-ingredient southern restaurant inspired by grandmother and matriarch Nellie of the famed Jonas Brothers family.

Across Main Street is LunaHombre, a wine and tapas bar that puts a focus on international flavors with a robust menu of cheese, charcuterie and small plates.

Nearby, Jolie Boutique can help fit any wardrobe with the finest in women's clothing.

Sitting in a former U.S. Post Office is our beautiful Belmont City Hall, which holds a special place in the history of our town. The Mayor lights the city's Christmas tree during a ceremony on its steps each December, and we sing Christmas carols and sip hot cider with friends and neighbors.

Pause for a moment on the corner by our town clock — across the street, by Nellie's — and read about our Belmont Historical Society's Cultural Learning Center, just a block to your right on Catawba Street. It's open on Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 1-5 p.m. In one of Belmont's oldest homes, the center is filled with Belmont history.

Crossing Catawba Street and continuing north on Main, the building on your right is home to String Bean, a delicious place for lunch or dinner. Be sure to check out the multi-year award-winning wine and beer selection. Or stop into Johnny B's Pizza Pad & Watering Hole just next door for a slice of pizza with the family.

And around the corner, take in the delicious dining of The Lodge Tavern & Tap. The meaty menu specializes in venison, duck and buffalo aside an extensive craft beer selection.

Continue on Main Street to Piccolo Antique Mall with more than 20,000 square feet packed with unique antiques, art, gifts and fascinating products.

At the end of the block, be sure to visit Surprise Me and check out their wide variety of unique gifts.

Want a snack as you continue perusing the streets of Belmont? Just across East Woodrow Avenue, say hello to the folks at Tastebuds Popcorn and choose from more than 200 flavors of tasty popcorn treats.

For the exercise enthusiast, Walk and Run Belmont will fit you for the perfect shoes—whether you're an experienced runner or just starting your Couch-to-5K training.

That's the short tour of Historic Downtown Belmont Main Street. But we have lots more to see here, including Rivermen Brewing Company and the new technology hub TechWorks of Gaston County, both located on nearby Ervin Street.

A 10-minute drive south on Main Street (turn left at New Hope Road) and you'll be at our world-class Daniel Stowe Botanical Garden with its five-story orchid conservatory and hundreds of acres of gardens and fountains.

Less than a mile north on Main Street is the campus of Belmont Abbey College, with a Benedictine monastery and the 115-year-old Abbey Basilica.

And along the banks of the Catawba River, find Kevin Loftin Riverfront Park with picnic shelters, a playground, a walkout dock and dock swings for watching kayakers or teams from Belmont Rowing. A little farther south on the river, discover North Carolina's first rum distillery, Muddy River with rum concoctions such as spiced, coconut and basil plus Queen Charlotte's Reserve.
